

What is your global footprint?

Many business executive across the Middle East are overwhelmed by the seeming collapse of the financial world. Regardless of your perspective on oil, on gas, on all commodity markets, on all equity markets, on ALL markets you are most likely focusing more and more on the real or physical world. This world still is solid, you can touch & feel it, and you can see it's still working, each morning a rice farmer gets up in China, a weaver starts making sarongs in Indonesia, and a pearl farmer seeds his pearls in the Gulf off the coast of Abu Dhabi.

You can take comfort in this reality but you must raise your thinking towards the future of your enterprise and ask how can you diversify more across the planet, across more sectors. You have worked hard to build your local business into a regional business. Like many other business executives your footprint is much like the one depicted below, it is regional with large percentages in the GCC and the other MENA countries. Only a small percentage of your business is global. You have most likely thought of expanding your global footprint like the second graphic below but asked, "How do we do this?" We suggest you call us.

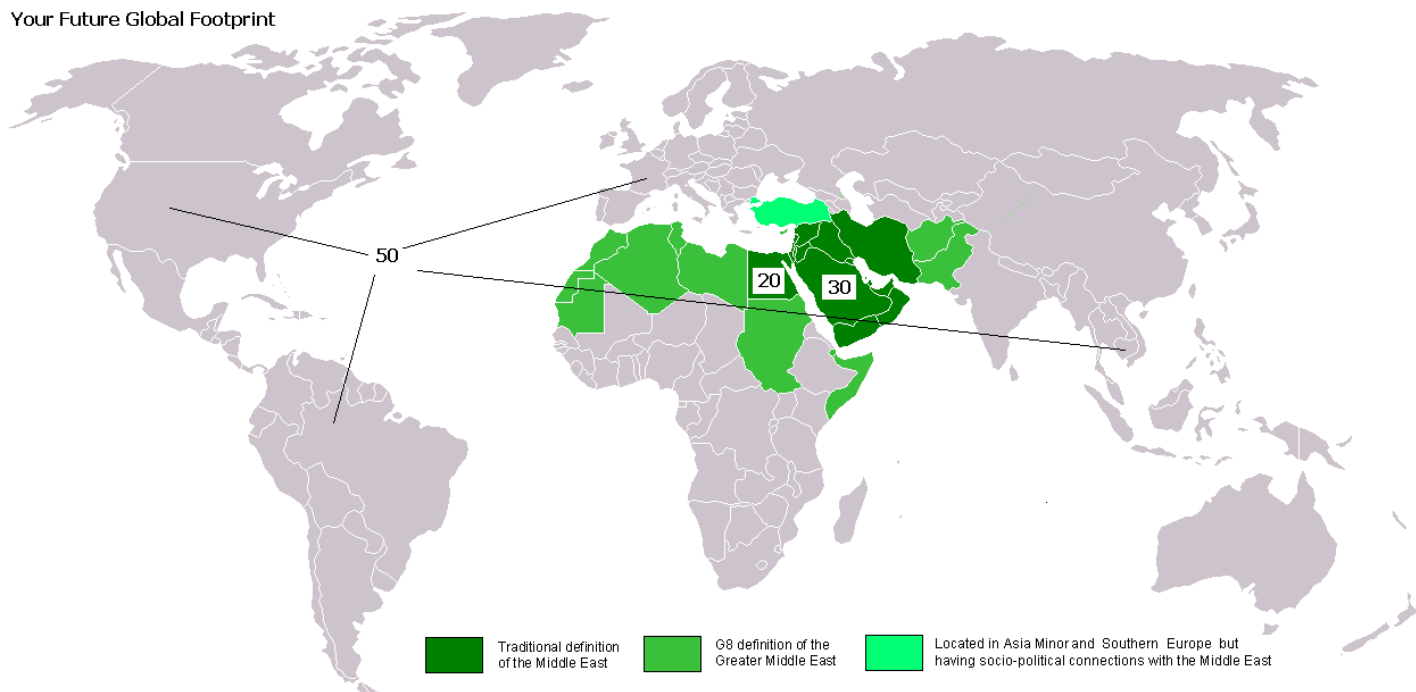

Your present regional footprint

Who are we? We are two deeply experienced professionals. You can find our credentials, our accomplishments, our CVs by going to this website. www.allanaustin.com

How can we help you achieve your future global footprint as shown in the graphic below? Read on below.

Your Future Global Footprint

Just give us a phone call Allan +1 407 923-1133 or Anthony (fluent in Arabic) +1 614 477-4725 and we can setup a telephone or online conference call with you and your colleagues. We offer a 90-minute consultation at no cost & no obligation. During this conversation we will explore your specific situation and the opportunities and challenges that you are facing and will encounter as you expand your global footprint.

Following this conversation we will send you our ideas in a brief presentation designed for you and your colleagues to reflect upon and seriously consider. Later at your discretion you can bring us into the conversation and we will explore how to more specifically proceed.

We will draft the blueprint for constructing & executing your global success. We are good at it. We have done it for many firms. We can demonstrate it and document it. Just give us a call.....

Allan +1 407 923-1133 or Anthony (fluent in Arabic) +1 614 477-4725 both New York City time.